Consultation statement

“Proposals for changes in the study and examination regulations”

UiODoc supports the proposed changes in sections 5.6, 5.7 as these amendments formulate the unified recommendations and regulations on examination across the university to ensure equity in treatment.

The amendment in section 5.7 regarding the faculty's duty to provide students with information on permitted use of aids and sources at the exam is important to define the sources that can be used by students without counting them as cheating / attempt of cheating.

Moreover, we support the incentive that it is important to define cheating / attempted cheating. Therefore, the recommendations here must be clearly defined and contain only objective examples. The example of cheating / attempted cheating #3 (gives the impression that the answer is more independent than it actually is) should not be included as it can be based on the subjective opinion of the examiner.

On behalf of UiODoc,

Christina Johannsen
